

Book of Minaria

Written By: A High Elf, Tiefling, and a Human

Version 1.00 (August 2022)

<https://www.dndbeyond.com/magic-items/5446409-book-of-minaria>

This book contains the lore and story of Minaria.

This plane or world is seen as a beautiful variability of nature. Mountains, Lakes, Winter Wonderlands, and more. This plane continually moves forward in terms of magic and engineering of all kinds. Being relatively open to all populations they have combined their knowledge to expand their horizons and reach new heights. Unfortunately, there has been internalizing racism that has fortunately been erased but some have clung onto it, as the most suspect is under spite, hatred, and nothing more.

Back nearly 120 years ago there was a conflict that began to arise between the Under, Middle, and Upper planes or as some know it as Verrona, Minaria, and Exynn respectively. The three planes lived in relative harmony but the racism between all the races that differed like the Drow Elves and Tieflings from Verrona, the Half Races like Half-Elf, Half-Orc, and the High Elves and Aasimar from Exynn. Both the Upper and Under planes believed in a pure society where blood types and races should remain pure and un-mixed while Minaria thought that all should choose for themselves. Although they had this uniting factor they still had a deep racist root ingrained in each of their civilizations where no plane agreed with each other and they all fought in what is known as the Plane War.

The Plane War was a long-lasting war where each side was trying to dominate the other to show that each of them was stronger than the other. Each Plane had a similar war strategy and army. Each plane had ...

- The Main God
 - Minaria: Boccob, Domain of Magic, Balance, and Destiny
 - Exynn: Pelor, Domain of Light, Sun, and Strength
 - Verrona: Lolth, Domain of Trickery, Chaos, and Spiders
- A Left-Hand Sage
 - Minaria: Zehir, Sage of Poison, Fire, and Snakes
 - Exynn: Chauntea, Sage of Plants and Water
 - Verrona: Myrkul, Sage of Necromancy and Mindflayers
- A Right-Hand Warrior
 - Minaria: Talos, Warrior of Storms and Elementals
 - Exynn: Grumbar, Warrior of Earth and Stone
 - Verrona: Kelemvor, Warrior of Death and Cold
- Troops containing many of their races of the plane.

This war went on where many fell and the lives of everyone were changed forever more. There were even many racist fights outbreaking in between planes. After meaningless fighting and war, there was a meeting between all 3 Gods. Where they all agreed to end this meaningless fighting and war. Where there was a celebration of 3 Red Shooting Stars and a single Blue Shooting Star that shattered into 10 pieces the majority landed in Minaria. Each of the Gods took one piece of the Red Shooting Star and used it as a symbol of peace between the planes.

This is the simple history of Minaria and its plane.