A armor (studded leather), rare

This suit of armor is reinforced with adamantine, one of the hardest substances in existence. To maintain the light aspect of the armor the Adamantine could not be fully imbued throughout. So while you're wearing it and a critical hit lands, you must roll a d20 if the roll is a 10 or higher then the critical hit becomes a normal hit otherwise the critical hit lands true.

Made from tough but flexible leather, studded leather is reinforced with close-set rivets or spikes.

Notes: Warding
