Armor (spiked armor), unknown rarity

This weapon was handcrafted by Beverly Caskbow using the fangs given to her by Wolfe Holdfast. She used these to add fangs on the shoulder pads and around the arm to be used as a bit of offense while also defending him.

You can use a Reaction to shove yourself into an enemy after they attacked you, within 5ft, to do 1d4 slashing damage by cutting them with the fangs on the armor.

Spiked armor is a rare type of medium armor made by dwarves. It consists of a leather coat and leggings covered with spikes that are usually made of metal.
