Wondrous Item, rare

This magical pendant is made to perfectly counter a single specific spell around the user. When wearing the pendant for the first time, the pendant performs a magical connection to the user and asks what spell they fear the most.

The wearer may choose any spell of 7th or lower, once they tell the pendant this spell it then glows with a color based on the school of magic the selected spell belongs to. The selected spell will fail to work within 10ft similar to the spell striking an Antimagic Field, no matter whether the caster is a friend or an ally.

The selected spell can not be changed unless the original wielder dies and then another character attempts to wear the pendant again.
